

SUBMIT YOUR 30's HERSTORY

The 30-Something Project is collecting a wide range of literature for an interactive online anthology to be published in September of 2014, featuring women in their thirties! The anthology will be published by mosheflow publishes books, Inc. Interested in this unique and creative opportunity, read the guidelines below and submit your work!

Focus:

- When did it hit you mentally that you were in your 30s? Describe the moment and what led you to own the 30-something era.
- What are some key issues that the 70s babies possess in the 21st century?
- How has the 30-something era changed your life as a woman?
- Your ideas matter; just write.

Submission Guidelines

There is no submission fee to be included in this anthology. However, all work accepted to be published in the anthology will be edited and is the property of The 30-Something Project. Additionally all contributors must sign a contract to be included for publishing. Late work will not be accepted. Each participant accepted to be published will receive a byline, a 60-word bio, and a photo on the anthology promotion web page. *Donations will be accepted for T-shirts to commemorate the project (for participants only)!!!

Accepted Genres: Poetry, Fiction, Monologues, Journalism, Photography, Essays

Word Count:

Poetry – 3 poem limit // Fiction- 2000 word limit // Monologues – 3 page limit // Journalism- 1500 word limit // Photography- 5-7 photos in JPEG. // Essays- 1500 word limit

Writing Details:

All work must be typed 12 Font, Double-Spaced, Send in a Word Document.

Include name, city, state, occupation, and a photo with your submission.

Deadline for Submissions: September 1, 2013

Submit Your 30s HERSTORY: editedwritinggallery@yahoo.com